Students and staff from Brampton Christian School enthusiastically grabbed shovels and gloves in this stewardship event. The group planted 150 native trees and 375 native shrubs along the riparian zone of Etobicoke Creek which runs along the property. This added vegetation will act as a filter for pollution and excess nutrients entering the water. It also provides habitat for wildlife in the area. While planting, the students observed a beaver exiting the water to climb up the opposite side of the creek.
