Habitat Enhancement	Bat Boxes	10	22	66

On Thursday April 25, 2013, 22 Hewlett Packard employees participated in building bat boxes as part of Earth Week.

The group took part in an educational presentation on bats, their habitat and importance to natural settings.

Afterwards, they constructed ten bat boxes which were installed by TRCA staff throughout the HP grounds.

Employees were also introduced to Stewardship Furs & Skulls exhibits to learn the importance of wildlife in urban settings. These efforts assist with better understanding and enjoying natural spaces in urban settings.
